

Our Rich Catholic Faith

Daily Quote from the Early Church Fathers:
Jesus the Good Shepherd changes wolves into sheep, by Cyril of Alexandria (376-444 AD)
"How then does [Jesus] command the holy apostles, who are innocent men and 'sheep,' to seek the company of wolves, and go to them of their own will? Is not the danger apparent? Are they not set up as ready prey for their attacks? How can a sheep prevail over a wolf? How can one so peaceful conquer the savageness of beasts of prey? 'Yes,' he says, 'for they all have me as their Shepherd: small and great, people and princes, teachers and students. I will be with you, help you, and deliver you from all evil. I will tame the savage beasts. I will change wolves into sheep, and I will make the persecutors become the helpers of the persecuted. I will make those who wrong my ministers to be sharers in their pious designs. I make and unmake all things, and nothing can resist my will.'"

International Grandparents and Elderly Day

In the Catholic Church, International Grandparents Day, also known as World Day for Grandparents and the Elderly, is celebrated on the fourth Sunday of July, which in 2025 falls on July 27th. This day, established by Pope Francis, is traditionally held near the feast of Saints Joachim and Anne, the grandparents of Jesus. The theme for 2025 is "Blessed are those who have not lost hope" (cf. Sir 14:2).

In our PARISH, we will be celebrating this on the weekend of July 19th/July 20th due to the Mission Co-op Appeal Weekend which will be July 26th/July 27th.

Sunday Reflection:

Appointed as Emissaries:

Thirty-six pairs of the Lord's followers were sent to multiply the impact of John the Baptist, who had previously been singularly called by God the Father to "Prepare the way for the Lord" (Mark 1:3). Jesus had been cultivating quite a following, and he assessed that many of them were ready to be his hands, feet, and voice in the world. Jesus stated that their destinations were all places he intended to go. We don't know from the historical record whether Jesus himself ever made the trek to each of these towns. Perhaps this would prove unnecessary, as Christ was spiritually making these visits through his disciples. These emissaries effectively served as the "body of Christ" of which St. Paul would later speak (1 Corinthians 12:27). We rejoice in the hope that these members of Christ's body are now part of the "cloud of witnesses" that prays for those who continue this evangelizing work.

The Abundant Harvest: Jesus assured his disciples that the mission fields into which they would travel were ripe for a harvest; many hearts would be thirsting to be exposed to the Gospel message of mercy, and many bodies and souls would be yearning to be healed. If anything, the mission fields have only further ripened over the years. In 1990, St. John Paul II wrote in Redemptoris Missio: "The number of those who do not know Christ and do not belong to the Church is constantly on the increase. Indeed, since the end of the Council it has almost doubled. When we consider this immense portion of humanity which is loved by the Father and for whom he sent his Son, the urgency of the Church's mission is obvious." May we have the grace and courage to be an effective Christian witness in our home and in our workplace, overcoming any fear of being a lamb among wolves.
